Explain:

A serious and unforeseen threat to the public health, safety or welfare has arisen with the coronavirus outbreak in North Carolina. The governor declared a state of emergency on March 10, 2020. Several barber schools have given the board notice that they have closed or will be closing their facilities due to the outbreak. To allow students to continue to receive education, the board proposes to eliminate rules that would prevent schools from being able to offer online classes. In addition, the board proposed to extend the timeframes for reporting requirements so that schools with absent staff members can still fulfill their obligations. Without this approach, some schools may go out of business because they cannot offer classes and receive income. This approach will also discourage schools from remaining open simply to avoid the financial consequences of closure, even when remaining open might pose a public-health risk. Additionally, since some schools have indicated that they may need to reduce staff temporarily in order to remain financially solvent, the proposed rules would reduce administrative requirements that these schools would have trouble fulfilling during a state of emergency.
